IMPORTANT NOTE BEFORE STARTING TO CROCHET

End the round by slip stitching.

Most of my patterns use the 'end the round with slip stitch' technique. I feel it makes the stitches more aligned and prevents the finished piece from skewing to one side. Of course, you can also use the spiral technique. I feel that some crocheters may not be familiar with the correct operation of the finishing part, so please pay more attention to this section.

for the end the round :

- 1.To ensure proper end-of-round placement, you should use a stitch marker to mark your first crochet stitch.
- 2.After that, thread the needle through --> take the yarn and pull it through to execute the slip stitch. (images 2, 3, 4) After that, gently pull to tighten it a bit.
- 3.Yarn over and thread it through again to make a chain stitch, and then make the first crochet stitch again where you slipped into to finish the round. (images 5~11)

Here are some notes after finishing a round: chain 1 for SC and HDC, chain 2 for DC, chain 3 for TR or TRC.
